DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 11 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hess et al (6,389,332).

As per claims 1, 11 and 21, Hess teaches:

- integrating diversified pieces of information (figures 1-7);
- providing each of the integrated pieces of information with a priority order indicating an importance of each piece of information (abstract); and
- when one or more pieces of information are processed in the vehicle, allocating one or more appropriate resources selected from a plurality of diversified resources to the integrated pieces of information according to an order based upon the priority given to each of the integrated pieces of information and conveying to an operator of the vehicle at least one of such pieces of information or a suggested action for the operator to undertake through the one or more appropriate resources (column 3, lines 6-31).

Hess does not use an exact value to indicate the priority of the information. However, it would have been obvious to one skill in the art that assigning a value to a piece of information is part of a process to indicate the importance of the piece of information. Therefore, the omission of element and its function in combination is obvious expedient if remaining elements perform the same function (prioritizing pieces of information). See, In re Karlson, 136 USPQ 184 (CCPA 1963).

As per claims 2 and 12, Hess teaches a level of urgency (abstract). Moreover, it has been held that the recitation that an element is "may" perform a function is not a positive limitation but only requires the ability to so perform. It does not constitute a limitation in any patentable sense. In re Hutchison, 69 USPQ 138.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3-10, 13-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2144

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
